Third Sunday after Pentecost

Grace is something you can never get but can only be given. There's no way to earn it or deserve it or bring it about any more than you can deserve the taste of raspberries and cream. . . . A good sleep is grace and so are good dreams. The smell of rain is grace. Somebody loving you is grace. Loving somebody is grace. . . . A crucial eccentricity of the Christian faith is the assertion that people are saved by grace. There is nothing you have to do. The grace of God means something like: Here is your life. You might never have been, but you are. . . . Here is the world. . . . Don't be afraid. I am with you. Nothing can ever separate us.

There's only one catch. Like any other gift, the gift of grace can be yours only if you'll reach out and take it. . . . Maybe being able to reach out and take it is a gift too.

loved our neighbors as ourselves. In your mercy, forgive

The Gloria Patri, which is sung each Sunday morning after the First Lesson, has been used by the church since the second century. Also known as the Lesser Doxology, its trinitarian language comes from Matthew 28:19, the commissioning of the disciples: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." The tune accompanying these ancient words was composed by Henry Wellington Greatorex in 1851. Greatorex (1813-1858), who was English, came to the United States in 1836 to serve as organist of churches in New Haven, Connecticut, and New York City.

The child being baptized at the 6:30 service is Oliver Maclean.
